|  8:45am         | Arriving before class starts means getting settled and ready for class.                          |  Ready to learn! |
|  8:55am         | Less likely to be ready for class, likely to be late to class.                                   | Getting close!                                                                                      |
|  8:56am         | Arriving late means the start of the lesson could be missed and is likely to unsettle the class. | Be on time!                                                                                         |
|  9:00am         | 5 minutes late a day means missing over 3 days of instructional time a year.                     | 5 minutes = 3 days lost!                                                                            |
|  9:05am        | 10 minutes late a day means almost 7 days lost a year.                                           | 10 minutes = 7 days lost!                                                                           |
|  9:10am       | 15 minutes late a day means 10 days lost a year.                                                 | 15 minutes = 10 days lost!                                                                          |
|  After 9:30am | Arriving very late is recorded as an unauthorised absence.                                       | ! Recorded as an absence                                                                            |

WHY PUNCTUALITY MATTERS

- ✓ Children feel settled and ready to learn
- ✓ Learning starts from the first minute of the day
- ✓ Good routines support wellbeing and confidence
- ✓ Friendships and social development are strengthened
- ✓ Excellent attendance leads to better outcomes

OUR GOAL

Arriving at 8:45am
for an
8:55am start

Being on time every day helps children thrive!

Students that are late are missing out on learning and can be a disruption to others. If a student is regularly late it will affect their learning at school.

BE HERE
BE READY
BE YOUR BEST!
